Morgan County Master Gardeners
2018 Fall Educational Series
6:00-7:30 PM

September 17
Hypertufa Garden Ball - What is hypertufa and how do you use in the home landscape. Recipes will be shared along with techniques to make various garden accents. This will be a hands-on session with participants making a small project to take home.

Master Gardeners: JoAnn Scholl and Becky Hooper

October 8
Invasive Trees - A discussion about the habitat of swamp trees and river trees ...how they adapt and grow. Also, information will be shared about invasive tree control at a Rokeby Lock tree farm.

Master Gardener: Quincy Robe

October 29
Over-wintering Tropical Plants - Many plants we enjoy outside during the summer months are not hardy for Ohio's winter temperatures. This session will be a discussion about which plants must have protection and how to successfully bring those plants through the winter months.

Master Gardener: Jose Lopez-Alvarado

No cost for these sessions. Participate in all or individual sessions. No pre-registration.
Contact: JoAnn Scholl, 740-962-5282

The series will be held at the Kate Love Simpson Library
358 E. Main Street, McConnelsville, 740-962-2533